4. 次の英文は、中学生の拓(Taku)が、幼稚園(kindergarten)での職場体験(work experience)を振り返って書いたものである。この英文を読んで、(1)~(7)の間に答えなさい。(16点)

I had a work experience at a kindergarten in July for three days. I decided to go there because I like children. I worked in Ms. Suzuki's class. There were eight children in her class, and they were all four years old.

On the first day, all the children in Ms. Suzuki's class enjoyed playing in the *sandbox. Ms. Suzuki said to them, "Taku will play with you. He can make many things in the sandbox." After the children and I ^a(build) a *sand castle together, I looked at their faces and said, "What a great sand castle!" The children were very happy when they heard my words. In the afternoon, I read a picture book about dogs to the children in Ms. Suzuki's class. They looked at the pictures in the book. It was one of my favorite books when I was a child, so I wanted to read it to them. However, when I was reading the book to them. That made me sad.

On the second day, I asked Ms. Suzuki about my first day. I said, "The children didn't enjoy the book when I read it to them yesterday. What should I do?" Then, Ms. Suzuki said, "You should *express the feelings of the *characters with your voice. The children want to know . I always use many kinds of voices when I read to children."

After I left the kindergarten, I went to a library. I found a good book to read to the children there. The name of the book was "The King of the Sand Castle." I chose that book because I remembered that the children enjoyed playing in the sandbox on the first day. At home, I read it many times. I used the best voices for the characters' feelings. When the character was sad, I used a sad voice. I tried an angry voice when the character was angry. Then, I *recorded myself with my computer. I watched it, and I thought that my *facial expressions didn't *match my voices. I practiced more. Finally, my facial expressions matched my voices and my voices also improved.

On the third day, I sat in front of the children to read the book to them. I said, "Today, I will read a story about a king playing in a sandbox. Do you like the sandbox?" Many children said, "Yes," and I began to read. They were ^b(listen) to me *carefully then. When the feelings of the characters changed, my facial expressions and my voices also changed. The children got excited. After I finished reading, the children smiled. They asked me to read the book again, so I read it again. I was glad to see .

After my work experience, I thought about my future. I learned that it is very important to get help from someone who has a lot of experience. I also realized that it is necessary for me to do my best to make people happy. When I work in the future, I must not forget these things.

- (注) *sandbox：砂場 *sand castle：砂の城 *express：～を表現する *character：登場人物 *record myself：自分自身を録画する
*facial expression：顔の表情 *match：～と合う *carefully：注意深く

続いて、話をします。

I'll talk about my mother.

She works at a museum. There are many interesting things there. People from many countries visit the museum.

Last Sunday, I took a train with my mother. On the train, a man spoke to us, but I couldn't understand what he said because he was speaking Chinese. My mother answered his question in Chinese. He looked happy.

I was surprised that my mother spoke Chinese. So, I asked my mother, "Why can you speak Chinese?" My mother said, "I learn Chinese and other foreign languages because I have to speak with people from many countries."

My mother looked cool when she was talking with the man. I want to speak various languages like my mother.
